GREEN MOUNTAIN COLLEGE WELCOMES INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS – AVERAGE AWARD: $16,000 PER YEAR

Green Mountain College

LIVING THE ENVIRONMENTAL LIBERAL ARTS

As a recent Green Mountain College graduate and its current Admissions Counselor, I am proud to be a member of the GMC community. In the past four years, I have witnessed the college's transformation from a local New England college to a national leader in environmental education and sustainability. We are all very proud of our students and staff whose hard work and creativity were recently recognized by Sierra magazine, which awarded GMC the title of the greenest school in the United States. As a former advisee of the EducationUSA center in Serbia, I warmly invite all international students and EducationUSA advisors to explore the wonderfully diverse opportunities that Green Mountain College has to offer.

The Sierra magazine story can be found here:

Financial Aid

During the 2008-2009 academic year, 90 percent of international students received financial assistance. The average institutional grant or scholarship for international students was $16,000.

Although Green Mountain College is committed to rewarding international students with excellent academic records, you should be aware that we still expect you to contribute significantly to your own education. Scholarships are available from other outside sources, and we are willing to work with you to find other opportunities for financial assistance.

About GMC

Green Mountain College is located in Poultney, Vermont, a rural historic town of 3,500 people in the beautiful Vermont countryside. Poultney is located in the northeastern part of the United States, situated about four hours north of New York City and three hours northwest of Boston. The weather in Vermont varies throughout the year: the average high temperature in January is -1 degree Celsius and the average high temperature in July is 16 degrees Celsius. Poultney typically receives 170 centimeters of snowfall each winter.

Green Mountain's setting provides opportunities for a variety of outdoor activities and adventure programming, as well as cultural offerings in nearby cities. Our intimate, community centered campus makes students the priority. Personal attention and support from faculty and staff will make your transition to the United States a painless process!

FOREIGN PRESS ASSOCIATION SCHOLARSHIP FOR FOREIGN GRADUATE STUDENTS OF JOURNALISM

The Foreign Press Association is offering a minimum of three scholarships to foreign graduate students of journalism in the United States, First Prize of $10,000.00, Second Prize of $7,500.00 and Third Prize of $5,000.00. The awards are meant to encourage the pursuit of a career in journalism focusing on international affairs.

Applicants must:

Submit a one page statement indicating how a scholarship will affect your future plans Indicate if financial aid is needed. List all scholarships and fellowships you have received towards your studies in the United States.

2) Submit an OP-ED piece (maximum 750 words)

In many countries around the world, women suffer discrimination that prevents them from taking a full place in society equal to that of men and that exposes them in some cases to physical abuse. There are many reasons for this unequal treatment, including cultural and religious traditions. As former President Jimmy Carter states, "Women are prevented from playing a full and equal role in many faiths, creating an environment in which violations against women are justified. The belief that women are inferior human beings in the eyes of God, give excuses to the brutal husband who beats his wife, the soldier who rapes a woman, an employer who has a lower pay scale for women employees or parents who decide to abort a female embryo." Mr. Carter sees religion as one of the "basic causes of the violation of women's rights."

In your essay, discuss the status of women in your own country. In what ways, subtle or overt, do women suffer discrimination? What are the root causes of this unequal treatment? In what ways, if at all, has the status of women changed over the last generation? Finally, what role, if any, has the media played in your country to ensure gender equality and the rights of women? Please use statistics, studies, or other credible evidence to back up your assertions.

3) Present proof of enrollment in a Graduate program of Journalism.

4) Submit two letters of reference:

- a) from a current professor,
- b) from an editor you have worked for.

5) Submit only two samples of published or broadcast work. If work is in a foreign language, please send it with an English translation.

Submit a curriculum vitae. Outline your previous experience in journalism and academic background. Only applicants with F-1 and J-1 Visas are eligible for consideration. Provide copy of documentation.

Five collated copies of all submissions must be sent.

The awards will be presented at the Annual Awards Reception in May 2011

Submissions must be received no later than December 30, 2010.

SUMMER CULTURE & LANGUAGE PROGRAM AT CENTENARY COLLEGE

Centenary College offers Summer Culture & Language Program annually during a summer semester in July and August and is attended by newly enrolled fall semester students and students who wish to learn English and to experience American culture for the summer only. Because of the success of this program, many of the summer only students return to the College and eventually enroll as full-time, matriculating students. Cultural events and trips are scheduled for Fridays and weekends. You will find a very special institution, a place where faculty and staff are committed to provide you with the educational and cultural experience of a lifetime on your way to becoming a successful member of the global community, and a place you will come to call home.
