MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE TO INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS AT CENTRAL WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

All new undergraduate international students enrolling for fall, winter, or spring quarter will automatically be considered for eligibility for merit-based scholarships. Scholarships are available while funds last. Students who apply for admission early will have better opportunities for receiving scholarships.

Central Washington University is a comprehensive, four-year public university offering bachelors and masters programs. Several campuses are available for students to choose from –including a residential main campus in Ellensburg and six other university centers located throughout the Washington state.

The main campus offers an outdoor paradise with some of the best fly-fishing, hiking, river rafting, snow-mobiling and skiing in the Pacific North West. Central Washington celebrates cultural diversity, and promotes leadership and academic excellence through classroom experiences and a host of extra-curricular activities. International students receive personalized assistance through a dedicated and friendly international student services staff.

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY INVESTS $1 MILLION IN AID FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Saint Louis University has announced that it will provide $1 million in new institutional aid to international students for the 2011–2012 academic year. The University currently educates students from more than 80 different countries and is exploring new educational partnerships in China and India.

"As we continue to recruit students from around the world, it is important that we remember that many of them face the same financial realities as our American students," said University President Lawrence Biondi, S.J. "This investment not only reflects our strong commitment to our international students, but also our rising status as a global institution."

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

Saint Louis University is enhancing its support of international students in other ways as well. The University recently completed a new Center for Global Citizenship, which brings SLU's internationally focused academic programs and support services under one roof. The center also features a 1,000–square–foot student lounge, state–of–the–art conference rooms with global teleconferencing capabilities and a classroom dedicated to supporting international teaching.

TRANSFER STUDENTS: 8 THINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW

By Lynn O'Shaughnessy
Posted: November 16, 2010 -- US News & World Report

Most of the attention during this admission season is on high school seniors, which means transfer students often get lost in the shuffle. That's a shame since a sizable number of college students end up transferring every year.

According to special report from the National Association for College Admission Counseling, a third of students end up transferring to other colleges or universities. Some of these students are transferring from community colleges, but many are also seeking to move from one four-year school to another.
