DAVIDSON COLLEGE NEED- AND MERIT-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS

Davidson is a highly selective independent liberal arts college for 1,920 students located 20 minutes north of Charlotte in Davidson, N.C. Since its establishment in 1837 by Presbyterians, the college has graduated 23 Rhodes Scholars.

Davidson welcomes applications from international students wishing to pursue a four-year undergraduate degree; however, the college is not able to offer financial assistance to all students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents. A limited number of students who are nationals of countries other than the United States receive financial assistance each year. These funds vary in amount and are based on a combination of financial need and merit.

UNIVERSITY OF EVANSVILLE MERIT-BASED SCHOLARSHIPS

Established in 1854, the University of Evansville, located in Southwestern Indiana, has a rich history that spans more than 150 years. Since its inception, the University has enjoyed a strong relationship with the United Methodist Church, sharing with it a commitment to inclusiveness. Students savor a sense of belonging on campus and appreciate the significance of their personal and professional behavior.

The University of Evansville offers academic scholarships ranging from $10,000 to $16,500 each academic year. Students with outstanding academic performance may be eligible for higher awards. Each applicant is automatically considered for merit-based scholarship based on academic credentials. Need-based financial aid is not offered; therefore, a separate financial aid application is not requested.

THE EVERGREEN STATE COLLEGE TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS

Since opening our doors in 1971, Evergreen has established a national reputation for leadership in developing innovative interdisciplinary, collaborative and team-taught academic programs. We have a vibrant undergraduate program, a graduate program, and public service centers that constitute a unique academic setting. The Evergreen State College is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU).

The Graduate Program on the Environment at The Evergreen State College in Olympia, Washington offers a number of awards to international students, including an international student waiver worth one-third of tuition for up to two years (in 2012, this was worth approximately $6700). International students are also eligible for other awards ranging from $500 - $7,930. Fall 2013 program applications are due February 15, 2013, and financial aid applications are due March 1, 2013.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ENROLLMENTS DOUBLE AT MISSOURI SOUTHERN STATE UNIVERSITY

The number of international students going to Missouri colleges is up 6.3% statewide, but it has doubled at Missouri Southern State University (MSSU). Some students want to become fluent in English while studying international business. A number of the internationals at MSSU are exchange students, which in turn allows American students to study abroad.

MSSU International Coordinator Lora Dean says she's working to recruit online through the school's website as well as a state consortium that shares international resources.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN RANKS EIGHTH IN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ENROLLMENTS

Students hailing from several foreign countries have helped place the University in a new group of "Big Ten" schools — the top 10 schools with the largest international student enrollment. The University of Michigan was ranked eighth largest international student body in the United States — with a reported 6,382 international students as of 2012 — in the 2011-2012 Open Doors Report released by the Institute of International Education this week.

Kavita Mokha, IIE manager of public affairs, said Open Doors — a publication funded by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the U.S. Department of State — aggregates institutional data from across the nation for a greater understanding of the flux of international students on U.S. campuses. Mokha said approximately 3,000 American institutions self-report their numbers each year to the IIE.

COE COLLEGE ADDS ENVIRONMENTAL, FILM, AND PSYCHOLOGY MAJORS

Coe College is a selective, private, nationally recognized four-year coeducational liberal arts institution providing superior educational experiences for students since 1851. Coe is a residential campus located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa - Iowa's second largest city. The 1,400 students enrolled at Coe make up a diverse population, representing more than 33 states and over 15 foreign countries.

Coe College is delighted to add three new areas of study to the list of majors offered. Environmental Studies requires students to critically evaluate humanity's interaction with the natural environment and was created for those students interested in ethics and social policy. Film Studies is a comprehensive interdisciplinary major that allows students to focus on a general or particular aspect of film and digital production. Organizational Science is a collateral major with Psychology that emphasizes the human aspect of the work environment by combining Psychology, Management and Quantitative Literacy coursework.
