I. Financial Aid

REED COLLEGE (OR) FINANCIAL AID FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

All financial aid at Reed is granted on the basis of demonstrated financial need. We offer no academic or athletic scholarships. Need is determined through an assessment of your family's financial resources and ability to contribute toward the cost of your education.

Reed meets the full demonstrated need of all admitted students. Since our funds are limited, we can offer financial aid to approximately 20 to 25 international students each year. In a typical year, 200 to 250 qualified international first-year and transfer applicants compete for these few awards. Reed will not admit a student who demonstrates need without offering a financial aid award. All offers of financial assistance include grants, work opportunities, and loans.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY CHICAGO SCHOOL OF LAW (IL) CONSUMER ANTITRUST SCHOLARSHIP

Loyola University Chicago's Institute for Consumer Antitrust Studies and Office of Foreign and International LLM Programs join forces to offer the Consumer Antitrust Scholarship, a 60% tuition-reduction scholarship, for Loyola's LLM Program for International Lawyers. The reduced tuition for the one-year program would amount to $13,536 (full tuition: $33,840).

The selected recipient will be part of the full activities and events of the Antitrust Institute, and will work closely with Institute Faculty to develop a tailored curriculum in international law with a focus in competition law. The scholarship is available for the academic year 2014/15; classes begin in August 2014.

Application deadline: March 15, 2014.

Loyola's one-year LLM Program for International Lawyers was launched in 2012 and offers two tracks: U.S. Law for Foreign Lawyers, and International Law with Focus Option.

Please contact Insa Blanke, Executive Director of Foreign and International LLM Programs, at iblanke1@luc.edu or 312-915-7091 to discuss any questions regarding the application and the program.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON (WA) LAUNCH OF SUMMER INSTITUTE FOR ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The University of Washington is proud to announce the launch of our new Summer Institute for Academic Success (SIAS) at our beautiful campus in Seattle, WA.

This intensive 4-week program is ideal for intermediate and advanced non-native English speakers who have already been accepted to a U.S. college or University and would like to get an edge on their preparations. The SIAS program features:

- Lectures and panel discussions with prestigious UW faculty
- Opportunities to network with other UW undergraduate students
- Social activities that include a welcome reception, campus tour, fun Seattle-area outing and weekly coffee hours with program staff

The SIAS program also boosts English language and presentation skills needed for top academic performance and increases awareness of U.S. academic culture and expectations.

CHECK OUT THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S 100,000 STRONG IN THE AMERICAS PROGRAM

In March 2011, President Barack Obama launched "100,000 Strong in the Americas," an initiative to increase international study in the Western Hemisphere. The purpose of 100,000 Strong is to foster region-wide prosperity through greater international exchange of students, who are our future leaders and innovators. Increasing understanding in the Western Hemisphere and building closer people-to-people ties will help the State Department work together with the people of the Western Hemisphere to address common challenges including citizen security, economic opportunity, social inclusion, and environmental sustainability.
