PAKISTAN NATIVE AND EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY ALUMNA FINDS CAREER IN BROADCASTING

Hands-on experience is vital to the development of broadcasting students, which is why 2005 graduate Sarah Zaman feels her time at WEIU-TV was so vital to jump-starting her professional career. Sarah Zaman, returned to campus in September to be honored as an EIU Global Ambassador. While back in Charleston, she took the opportunity to talk about her Eastern Illinois University experience, her work at WEIU-TV, and how it all led to her current job with Voice of America (VOA) in Washington, D.C.

Zaman works for VOA's Urdu television service; Urdu is the Pakistani national language. While she has worked as a news anchor in past VOA ventures, her current contract has her in a reporting and production role.

NORTHWESTERN MICHIGAN COLLEGE INTERNATIONAL CLUB PARTICIPATES IN 'ONE BILLION RISING'

www.nmc.edu

NMC | Find it here.

One Billion Rising, a global movement to end violence against women and girls, will be marked locally by an open dance near the food court at the Grand Traverse Mall on Feb. 14. with several members of Northwestern Michigan College's International Club participating.

NMC's Office of Student Life is leading Traverse City's participation in One Billion Rising. Internationally, the event is organized by V-Day, a non-profit that seeks to end violence against women worldwide. V-Day states that one in three women worldwide — or one billion — will be raped or beaten in her lifetime. On Feb. 14, one billion people will rise up, dance and demand an end to that violence.

"Our students are very passionate about this issue and the event has gained almost instant support from everyone in our International Club," says Lindsey Dickinson, Advisor to the International Club. "This is the perfect example of the types of opportunities and experiences available to students at NMC and shows the level of involvement students have in this community." For more information, please visit: <http://bit.ly/11o8Rht>
