INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS TOUR THE GULF COAST

International students attending the Naval School of Explosive Ordnance Disposal School (NAVSCOLEOD) on board Eglin Air Force Base in Niceville, Fla., spent the weekend of May 25-27 touring the Gulf Coast as part of a cultural immersion experience.

Eighteen students from Australia, Canada, Chile, Japan, Thailand, Malaysia, and Botswana visited coastal locations between Niceville and New Orleans as part of a field trip that is scheduled when international students reach the Air Ordnance Division course of instruction at NAVSCOLEOD.

The trip is included in the curriculum by the International Field Studies Program to help immerse foreign students into the local culture and environment, expose them to the diverse population in American society and enhance their understanding of the American way of life before they return to their home countries.
