UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-SUPERIOR TUITION AWARD PROGRAM (TAP) – UP TO $7500 PER YEAR

University of Wisconsin–Superior Tuition Award Program (TAP)

UW-Superior's Tuition Award Program (TAP) aims to foster a campus community that is culturally diverse and academically strong. In 2009-10, more than 90% of undergraduate international students who qualified for admission also qualified for a TAP award.

Award amount: $5500 to $7500 per year (Average for 2009-10: $6775)

Non-resident Tuition & Fees in 2009-10: $14,510

Available for: Freshmen and transfer undergraduate students

Deadline: Fall: July 1 / Spring: November 1

Majors offered: www.uwsuper.edu/admissions/freshmen/academics/majors/

Duration: Award renewable for a maximum of eight semesters. Awards for transfer students adjusted accordingly.

TAP Grants ($5500/year) are generally awarded to students who:

- submit all necessary application materials for full-time undergraduate degree program;
- are academically admissible to UW-Superior;
- submit a TAP application form, and
- demonstrate sufficient financial support for the remaining expenses;

Global TAP Scholarships ($2,000/year) are awarded, in addition to the TAP Grant, to students who demonstrate particularly strong academic achievement. Note that for Global TAP Scholarships:

- academic merit is the primary basis for the award, but financial need and campus diversity may be taken into consideration;
- special consideration is given for achievement demonstrated through scores from the SAT, ACT, International Baccalaureate (IB) programs or internationally-administered A-Level exams;
- athletic ability is not a criterion, but other forms of school or community involvement are considered;
- a personal statement and/or letters of recommendation are encouraged;
- all students who meet the criteria for the TAP Grant are automatically given consideration for a Global TAP Scholarship;

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY INDIANAPOLIS ANNOUNCES NEW BA IN PHILANTHROPIC STUDIES

IUPUI is pleased to announce a new Bachelor of Arts in Philanthropic Studies beginning Fall 2010. Philanthropy and the nonprofit sector are becoming increasingly complex, and those who plan to work in this arena should seek a sophisticated education in the field. This new program is designed to equip students with the knowledge and hands-on experience needed to succeed in entry-level positions in philanthropy and the nonprofit sector. It will help them prepare for careers in fields as diverse as foundations, healthcare, human services, community development, education, the arts and the environment.

Students will have opportunities to interact with national nonprofit leaders, complete a capstone learning experience and participate in internships and service learning projects. They will learn firsthand from Indiana University's Philanthropic Studies faculty members, many of whom are among the nation's leading experts and researchers in philanthropy. The Center on Philanthropy at IUPUI has pioneered the field of Philanthropic Studies and created the world's first Master of Arts and Ph.D. degrees in Philanthropic Studies.

Students who apply now can still be considered for IUPUI scholarships! First-year students with excellent SAT or ACT scores are eligible for annual scholarships of up to $10,000 annually for up to four years.

NEW OPPORTUNITY FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS - TS COLLEGE TOURS

TS College Tours is the only college tour program exclusively focused on the backgrounds and needs of international school students.

With each tour comprised entirely of international students (and Americans studying abroad), students spend their time with others who share similar backgrounds, experiences and interests.

As well, our tour leaders are all experienced college counselors in highly reputable international schools. Students benefit from our personal university contacts, which allow us to organize private tours and personal conversations.

More than just a college tour, students take part in evening seminars and discussions on various aspects of the application process.

2010 features tours to colleges in the Northeast, California, as well as Canada.
